Rick Riley Breaks 'Four' in Sensational Mile Win

By BOB PAYNE

Sebastian-Rosen Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES — Oregon's track team went into one of its usual little victory dances just after the mile relay of the Pacific-8 track championships Saturday afternoon at sunny Bruin Stadium. The Ducks were a little premature.

UCLA, on a harvest of 20 points in the pole vault, an event that finished late and which the Ducks shouldn't have overlooked, pulled out the team championship in this most hotly contested of meets with 111 points to the 105 of Oregon, which had been staked to 44 points in four Friday finals.

There was reason for confusion as many results were changed or held up for photos and everyone in the crowd of 8,000, on another smoggy, 50-degree day, was in suspense. But when the final total went up, it was UCLA coach Jim Bush who got the victory ride for the second straight year.

The competition had been simply stunning. When Oregon scraped up a sensational mile relay team, sprinter Al Hearney anchoring, and chased UCLA to a meet-record 3:07.1, shortly after Steve Prefontaine and Steve Savage ran first and third in the three-mile, the Ducks thought they had it. Oregon ran a school-record 3:08.2 behind the Bruins after entering with the seventh best season time, and Washington State was third in 3:08.5, also a school record.

But at the other end of the field the pole vault was just finishing. And it produced a first, second and fifth — and the meet — for UCLA with Jon Vaughn, Jeff Sakala and Bruce Simpson as Oregon's Alan Paz failed to place.

Two-Team Race

This developed as a two-team competition. California got 20 sprint points as expected, Eddie Hart and Isaac Curtis an easy 1-2 in the 100, Hart and Dave Masters 2-3 in the 200 and Hart anchoring a spectacular 400 relay win, but the Bears picked up few anywhere else and settled for third at 79 to 77 for Southern California and 72 for stunned WSU.

It is difficult to say that the day was totally disappointing for WSU, for the Cougars had one of the greatest moments in their track history when Rick Riley, in the finest race of his long and often-frustrated career, ran down Oregon's favored Roncoe Divine and blasted through the four-minute barrier in a fantastic 3:38.2 mile that had the crowd in an uproar for 10 minutes.

Dick Olsen, after a disappointing defeat in the high hurdles by USC's Tyrone Dutton, accomplished what Dick "sat down" on the ninth hurdle and lost his lead, rushed to a strong 58.8 second place behind UCLA's great Wayne Collett in the intermediates.

Art Sandison successfully and impressively defended his 800 title, going past Oregon State's Pat Collins in the stretch for a 1:48.2 victory, fastest time in the nation this year, as four men ran under 1:45 and Washington's Rich Meuser had a best ever 1:36 flat in fifth.

No Van Reenen

But what overwhelmed everything else for WSU was the unluckiest event of the entire meet, John Van Reenen, two-time NCAA and Pacific-8 discus champion, unbeaten in three years of collegiate competition, failed even to qualify for the finals of the event in which he leads the nation — flogging twice, then managing 160 feet on his third, but only legal, throw.

No the Cougars were short 10 points they thought they had coming and also were out of third place.

"We've been miserable today," said Coach Jack Mobery, with a sadling exception to Riley. "We should have had third place in the meet easily."

For Van Reenen it simply was a bad day.

Saturday morning he arose to read in the newspapers that his native South Africa once again had been excluded from the Olympic Games.

Direct UCLA-Oregon confrontations were few until the mile relay, which Collett pulled with a sensational 48-second anchor leg after WSU had led at every exchange, Steve Fitzgerald opening in 47.5 and Sandison throwing in a 46.5 third lap.

The Bruins were hurt in the triple jump, where defending champion Denny Rogers took only sixth as Stanford's Alan Meredith set a meet record of 52.5 and in the 200, where Reggie Robinson didn't place and John Smith, with a light leg, scratched. But earlier Smith had won the 400 with a great closing rush on USC's Edsel Garrison, at 48.9, Collett almost stole the intermediate finish with 58.8, they were an easy second in the 400 relay and got two places in the high jump.

Five more meet records were set Saturday and two more tied, making 17 seven breaks and three ties in two days at this fabulous facility.

Oregon State's and Yakima's Willie Turner, making up for his 100 failure on Friday, ripped to a 20.4 victory in the 200 and joined Riley, Meredith, Smith, and the Bruin mile team as record breakers. OSU's John Radevich tied the high jump mark with 7-0 and Collett equaled the intermediates record.

On Friday, Hart had tied the 100 mark with 9.3 — he went 9.4 in the final — and Washington's Jim Johnson and Oregon's Bouscy Moore set records in the steepclimb and long jump.

Riley was just one of five mile placers to run an all-time best. But his was bestest.

"This has been a long time in coming," said the slender sprinter who has accomplished a lot since his prep days at Feris but also had many disappointments.

'Got Some Help'

"I finally got some help in setting the pace," Riley said, relieved of an old burden. "The pace wasn't as quick as I would have expected, but I still didn't want to set it."

After Cal's Clifton West led on a 62.3 first lap, UCLA's Mike Mullins started ahead, picked it up a bit and passed the half in 2:01.4. Divine, two-time champion of this event and old record holder, went past Riley and then with 100 yards to go, took the lead — "I wanted to move about then, too," said Riley.

Stanford's Duncan MacDonald, who eventually finished third in 3:38.6, behind Divine's 3:39.2, moved up as they heard the bell and passed three-quarters in 3:02.

Down the backstretch all opened up. On reputation, Divine seemed to have it and he took command against MacDonald in the final turn. Riley was right behind, running strongly but not really closing. For a moment, as they straightened out, it looked as though Rick might be boxed in, but 70 yards out MacDonald wavered slightly and there was an opening and Riley rushed through.

"With 20 yards to go, I thought, why not give it hell," Riley said. "I had to have a go at it."

He came up alongside Divine with 20 yards left, matched strides, then burst ahead at the tape. Through the finish, he raised his arms in joy and gave a tiny leap. When he saw the time on the electronic timer, he jumped again — and the crowd gave another roar. Riley had run his last lap in 58 seconds.

Despite Van Reenen's disappointment and the other frustrations of the day, Rick made the trip worth it for the Cougars.

McCovey Comes Back---and So Do Giants, 5-4

BY ROSS NEWHAN
Times Staff Writer

His vision is blurred. His right knee is arthritic. His right shoulder is jammed and in pain.

His name is Willie McCovey and he is baseball's most fearsome cripple since the retirement of Mickey Mantle.

After missing the first two games of the series—games that his team lost—McCovey came thundering back Saturday night.

The big first baseman, the National League's Most Valuable Player, awed a crowd of 42,241 at Dodger Stadium by hitting two prodigious home runs as the Giants defeated the Dodgers, 5-4.

McCovey's first homer and his 11th of the year, lifted San Francisco into a tie from a 3-1 deficit in the third and his second accounted for the fifth and decisive run in the eighth.

The display of muscle nullified another consistent attack by the Dodgers, who have hit in double figures in 11 of the 13 games of May.

This time there was a three-run homer from Willie Davis and three hits from both Maury Wills and the torrid Bill Grabarkewitz, whose average of .412 places him nine points behind National League leader Rico Carty.

The Dodgers had Gaylord Perry in constant peril, but were unable to deliver the big hit after Davis followed a single by Wills and a walk to Manny Mota with his first home run of 1970 in the opening inning.

The liveliest threat occurred in the eighth when four singles produced only one run.

An inning-opening single was erased by a double play and when Willie Crawford, Grabarkewitz and Tom Haller followed with consecutive singles, the Giants' lead was closed to 5-4 and Perry was on the bench.

The new pitcher, Frank Reberger, a man with an earned-run average of 6.83, got pinch-hitter Bill Sudakis on an outfield fly and then retired the Dodgers in order in the ninth.

Preserved was the fifth victory for Perry, whose alleged employment of the spitball failed to raise the ire of the Dodgers, who got 11 hits.

The loser was Alan Foster, who discreetly walked McCovey in both the first and sixth innings, but paid severely when he pitched to him following a walk to Willie Mays in the third.

McCovey's first home run hugged the right-field foul line and landed

JIM MURRAY

Ungrizzled Veteran

You all know what baseball means by Grizzled Veteran.

This is a guy with a blue, barbed beard so tough you could use it to string in front of trenches or pen cows in. His vocabulary is rated "X" and you could fry fish on his temper.

He sprays tobacco juice around the clubhouse, calls everybody "Bush!" and lives life at a snarl and a sneer. He has no time for the rookies, the manager, the umpires, the press, and his speech is sprinkled heavily with animals. Like "bull" and "horse."

It's nice if the club wins — but not necessary. World Series checks can be handy, and the payoff in testimonials is to be respected, but the main idea is to go 2-for-4, get that 3,500th hit, eat steaks, pay off the farm, go hunting, and get invited to the better pro-am golf tournaments in the winter. It's a business. The thing is to get that third hit every 10 times up, try to get that muscle pull the night Seaver is pitching, but dress in a hurry for the expansion club with the sore arm junk dealer with the hanging curve on the mound.

He's looked at too many curves that just hit the outside corner, he's chased too many crazy caroms, cursing, into a corner while his arm ached, he's had too many rooms the road secretary gave him next to the elevator shaft, he's been stacked up over too many airports, and too many flashy kids have made leaping catches of his 410-foot line shots against the wall for him to have many illusions. The eyes are hard, and you could sharpen knives on his heart.

Which is why I approached Grizzled Veteran Wes Parker of the Dodgers with caution the other night.

Wes used to be the kind of kid you'd want to bring home to your sister. But seven years of guessing curves and getting change-ups; seven years of taking called third strikes on balls you were sure were going to bounce, or getting errors charged on shots you were lucky didn't put a hole through you; seven years of swinging at Marichal's foot-kick before he let go of the ball; seven years of charging bunts only to have the guy swing away—well, I figured it was no time to give it the old "Well, Wes, how's it going?" gambit.

I figured the eyes would be narrowed and glittering. I figured he'd be yelling at the clubhouse boy, muttering about the manager, roaring "What kind of a stupid question is that?!" at me, as he fired his shoes into the locker, dribbled tobacco on his longjohns and poked a finger in my chest and snarled, "Who was scoring tonight? If that ball I hit to second was an error, I'm Bat Masterson. Napoleon Lajoie would of ducked from it!"

Wet Behind the Ears

Wes sat there mildly. The blue eyes were still wide and guileless. The hair was as curly and blond as a baby in a soap ad. The cheeks were smooth. The smile was ready and a trifle shy.

Still, this was the guy who batted .304 in the 1965 World Series. This is the guy who was on the team with Jim Gilliam, Sandy Koufax, Wally Moon, Don Drysdale, Johnny Podres. This man is 30 years old on a team still wet behind the ears. Only one player on the team—Willie Davis—antedates him.

I looked around for evidence of grizzle.

"The kids bug you, do they? Make mistakes eh?" I asked.

NO WAY TO TREAT A TEAMMATE—Col's Ed Hart appears to be pushing his teammate, Isaac Curtis, in the face as he leads a one-two Bear finish in 100-yard dash of Pacific 8 track championships Saturday at UCLA. Hart was timed in 9.4. UCLA won meet, with Oregon second, Col third.

AL UNSER, RUTHERFORD AND FOYT IN FRONT ROW

Ford-Powered Parnelli Colt Wins Pole for Indy 500 at 170.221; Unheralded Texan Earns Second Position

BY SHAY GLICK
Times Staff Writer

INDIANAPOLIS—It is no surprise that Al Unser will sit on the pole in the Memorial Day 500, or that A. J. Foyt will be on the outside of the front row, but the fellow in the middle is something else again.

Johnny Rutherford, whose name had never appeared among the 15 fastest drivers during two weeks of practice at the Indianapolis motor Speedway, came within .009 m.p.h. Saturday of taking the No. 1 position away from Unser as time trials opened for the 500-mile classic.

The 32-year-old Texan pushed his new Eagle, powered by a turbo-charged Offy, to a four-lap (10-mile) average speed of 170.213 m.p.h. against the 170.221 posted only moments earlier by Unser, the pre-qualifying favorite.

Rutherford had the day's hottest single lap, his first, at 171.135. When it was announced, the crowd of 150,000 came to its feet, cheering for the popular veteran, but he couldn't quite hold the pace.

"When I heard that first-lap time I figured we were done for," exclaimed Parnelli Jones, for whom Unser's turbo-charged, Ford-powered Parnelli Colt was named. "I had heard Johnny was hitting some hot laps in practice earlier today, but I wasn't prepared for this. They must have really found something."

In five Indy races Rutherford never has finished and he had never qualified better than 11th in the past.

Rutherford, whose best practice time was 166 m.p.h., was lavish in his praise of chief mechanic Mike Devin, a rookie at the Speedway.

Oregon Celebrates Prematurely; UCLA Wins Pac 8 Meet

BY HARLEY TINKHAM
Times Staff Writer

If you left after the final event Saturday, we've got news for you today.

UCLA, not Oregon, won the Pacific-8 track and field championships at Westwood, scoring 111 points to 102 for the Ducks.

Oregon, after finishing a surprising second to UCLA in the mile relay, figured it had the meet won and immediately went into a victory dance. You couldn't blame 'em. The score read Oregon 102, UCLA 78.

What the Ducks, and the fans, didn't know was that the points from the high jump and pole vault had not yet been recorded. When they were, the Bruins picked up 20 in the pole vault and 13 in the high jump, while the Ducks were getting shut out, and coach Jim Bush was getting a victory ride down the track for the second year in a row.

California was third with 79 points, followed by USC, 77; Washington State, 72; Oregon State, 54; Washington, 33, and Stanford, 30.

Five Marks Fall

It was quite a track meet. The marks were as scorching as the weather as five meet records were broken and two more equaled.

Washington State's diminutive Rick Riley ran the nation's first sub-4 minute mile of the year, overhauling Stanford's Duncan Macdonald and Oregon's Roscoe Divine in the stretch for a 3:59.2 victory.

Divine (3:59.6) and Macdonald (3:59.6) also broke 4 minutes while UCLA's Mike Mullins, in fourth, recorded a lifetime best of 4:01.6.

Other conference records were set by Oregon State's Willie Turner, 20.4 in the 220; UCLA's John Smith, 45.9 in the 440; Stanford's Allen Meredith, 52.3 in the triple jump, and UCLA, 3:07.1 in the mile relay.

Equaling meet records were UCLA's Wayne Collett, 50.6 in the 440 intermediate hurdles, and Oregon State's John Radetich, 7-0 in the high jump.

Also, Washington State's Art Sandison recorded the fastest $80 in the U.S. this year with a 1:48.2 clocking. Now, how did the Bruins do it?

Personality Pays Off---Triumphs in Preakness

My Dad George Loses in Stretch Duel; Silent Screen Third, High Echelon Fourth

BALTIMORE (AP)—Personality won a bitter Preakness stretch duel from My Dad George Saturday at Pimlico and fulfilled for young trainer John Jacobs a dream never realized by his legendary late father—a victory in a Triple Crown race.

Personality's neck victory over My Dad George also smashed the chances of Kentucky Derby winner Dust Commander of becoming the first Triple Crown champion since Calumet Farm's Citation in 1948. Dust Commander finished ninth in a field of 14 3-year-olds.

Jacobs' father, Hirsch, who died at 66 last February, saddled a world record 3,596 winners, but never sent out a winner in the Derby, Preakness or Belmont Stakes.

Asked how it felt to accomplish something his father never did, Jacobs, a 35-year-old bachelor, said, "Well, he did. He achieved it. He bred him."

Victory a Family Affair

Personality's victory was truly a family affair.

Personality not only was bred by Hirsch Jacobs, who saw him race only once, he is owned by John's mother, Ethel. The colt's sire, Hall to Reason, and his dam, Affectionately, were bred and raced by the Jacobs family.

Personality, who shied away from a water puddle while finishing eighth in the Kentucky Derby, had to be controlled from lugging in before winning the $203,800 Preakness.

"He started lugging a little bit while we were battling Silent Screen for the lead at about the one-eighth pole," winning jockey Eddie Belmonte said. "He never did that before."

Just Changes Whip

But Belmonte, fearing that if he took hold the colt would slow down, instead switched whip hands to straighten out Personality.

"He put in a big run," Belmonte said. "The other horse (My Dad George) never got by me. He got up even, but when I switched my stick from my right hand to my left my horse came on again. This is a real nice colt."

"If he's all right we'll go to Garden State for the Jersey Derby," Jacobs said.

As for the Belmont Stakes June 6, Jacobs said, "We take them one at a time." He also added that Personality's stablemate, High Echelon, third in the Kentucky Derby and fourth behind Silent Screen Saturday, would go to Garden State, too.

Jacobs said he gave Belmonte somewhat different instructions than he had given the jockey for the Derby.

Arts And Letters Injured; Baffle Sets Californian Record

BY BION ABBOTT
Times Staff Writer

Arts And Letters, 1969 Horse of the Year, suffered an injury during the $112,800 Californian Saturday at Hollywood Park that may end his racing career.

Arts And Letters' injury tempered a victory celebration by trainer John Longden and owner Frank McMahon following Baffle's five-length triumph in a record-shattering 1:40 1/5 for the rich fixture at 1 1/16 miles.

Trainer Elliott Burch said he feared suspensory trouble after a hurried inspection of the Rokeby Stable champion. Burch reported Arts And Letters had heat in his left foreleg following his unlikely sixth-place finish as a 3-5 favorite of the 47,436 fans.

The leg was examined by veterinarian Dr. Jack Robbins, who will take X rays this morning after the leg has been given a chance to cool.

Retirement a Possibility

"It was unfortunate," said the distraught Burch, "but it was just one of those things."

Horses can recover from injuries of this nature but it might be pointed out that the 4-year-old son of Ribot is no ordinary horse. If there is any serious trouble, it is most likely owner Paul Mellon would retire his champion immediately.

It was reported there was no bone damage discovered during the initial examination.

"He stumbled at the start and never seemed to get his action," said his puzzled rider, Braulio Baeza, after what first appeared to be a mediocre performance.

Ironically, it was Arts And Letters who handed Majestic Prince his only defeat in what turned out to be the final race of his career a year ago in the Belmont Stakes.

And Longden frankly admitted he and McMahon were pointing for re-

Liquori Defeats Keino by 10 Yards in 1,500

VILLANOVA, Pa. (U.P.)—Trailing by 30 yards starting the last lap, Villanova's Marty Liquori passed fading Olympic champion Kip Keino midway through the stretch to win the 1,500-meter race at the second annual Martin Luther King Games Saturday at Villanova Stadium.

Liquori upheld his ranking as the world's best at 1,500 meters as he finished 10 yards ahead of Keino, who almost came to a stop 30 yards from the finish and then picked up enough speed to last for second over Villanova's Chris Mason, Byron Dyce of United AA, New York, finished fourth.

Texas Triumph

Liquori was timed in 3:42.6 with Keino, the police sergeant from Kenya, running the distance in 3:43.8. Mason's time was 3:44.1 and Dyce's 3:44.3.

Texas A&M's 440 and mile relay teams were impressively in the meet honoring the memory of Dr. King, the late civil rights leader.

The only individual double winner was sprinter John Carlos, who took the 100-meter dash in 10.1 and the 200-meter event in 20.4.

Olympic champions Bob Beamon won the long jump with a leap of 25 feet, 5 3/4 inches; Lee Evans the 400 meters in 45.6, and Willie Davenport the 110-meter hurdles in 13.5.

The big event, however, for a crowd of 10,500, was the 1,500-meter run between Liquori and Keino, who won the 1968 Olympic Games event with Liquori limping in last on a game leg.

The Kenyan's strategy was to steal a big lead and let the others catch him. Texas A&M and Villanova put on a thrilling mile relay duel, the Aggies winning by a stride in 3:08.3. Villanova was a tenth of a second away in 3:08.3 as A&M's Curtis Mills overtook Villanova's Larry James in the home stretch. Mills ran a 45.4 anchor leg to 43.7 for James.
