

Aggies run away with track meet

College Station (UPI) — Houston's Cecil Overstreet won the long jump and 100-yard dash but host Texas A&M won five events to easily outdistance the university division of the College Station Relays.

The Aggies scored 138½ points while Rice was second with 97 points, followed by Baylor 89, Houston 78½, Lamar 59½, Louisiana Tech 29 and Texas Christian four.

Overstreet leaped 25-1¼ in the long jump and ran a 9.48 100-yard dash and was the meet's leading scorer with 20 points.

Texas A&M's Shifton Baker had 19 points for winning the 440-yard hurdles (51.56), finishing second in the 120-yard high hurdles and a leg on A&M's fourth-place sprint relay team.

Bryan High School won the high school division with 102 points while Brenham finished second with 85.

Aggies win

COLLEGE STATION (Sp) — Texas A&M combined its domination of the field events and the individual efforts of Shifton Baker to easily win its own track meet here Saturday.

Rice won a battle with Baylor for second place. And, the University of Houston, which suffered a blow when star sprinter Greg Edmond was injured, finished third.

Edmond pulled up lame in the first leg of the 440-relay with an injury to the back portion of his left thigh. The severity of the injury is not known.

Baker won the 440-hurdles with a 51.56 time and finished second in the in the 120-high hurdles behind Louisiana Tech's Monroe Ford to finish second in the individual high-point race with 19 points.
