Rice defeated Texas A&M, 69-67, in a dual track meet at Rice's track Saturday as the Owls rallied from a 66-56 deficit with two events remaining.

Two former Houston schoolboys, Mike Novelli from Strake Jesuit and Marty Froelick from Scarborough, gave Rice a 1-2 finish in the three mile. Then the Owl mile-relay team capped off the day by winning as the host team eased ahead by two points.

A&M dominated the field events, scoring 18 points to none for Rice in the shot and discus rings. Gusty conditions handicapped performers in nearly every event.

Rice's strong finish nips A&M in track

Summaries/page 13C

Rice won the final two running events Saturday to edge Texas A&M, 69-67, in a dual track meet at the Owls' track.

Mike Novelli and Marty Froelick finished one-two in the three-mile run and Rice's mile-relay team, anchored by Sammy Waugh, won handily to provide the Owls with the victory.

Rice was trailing, 66-56, prior to the last two events.

Until the late surge, hurdlers Curtis Isaiah of Rice and Shifton Baker of A&M were the meet standouts. Although he finished second behind Baker in both the high and intermediate hurdles, Isaiah won the long jump, with a 22-11 leap, to nip Baker for individual high-point honors, 11-10. Baker was the only double winner of the day.

However, Waugh won the 440 in 48.64 and ran on both the winning Rice relay teams.

Rice's Carlton Derrett won the 100 in 10.07, while A&M's Ray Brooks ran the 220 in 22.76. All of the short races were run into a stiff wind.
